

Firsthand Encounters of Our Work: February Updates from Kupenda

Dear friend,

In this month's blog, you'll hear directly from those contributing to and benefiting from Kupenda's work. You can also listen to a preview of Kupenda's upcoming podcast, "Unlikely Gifts," which features Kupenda co-founders, Cynthia and Leonard, discussing how the children with disabilities they serve have taught them about life's hardest tragedies and most amazing gifts.

In addition, you'll hear from the mother of Charo, a Kupenda student who has overcome hunger, blindness, and the death of his father. And finally, you can learn about Eli's experience as a Kupenda intern, partnering with us to make a global impact!

In love and gratitude,

Cynthia Bauer
